Meeting to Secure Honest Elections.

CHICAGO, April 11.—A mass meeting will [illegible] in the Exposition building this evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Mayor [illegible] elected next Tuesday. Since gross frauds were [illegible] at the last city election, the people have [illegible] thoroughly aroused and propose [illegible] against the ballot box stuffers [illegible] who are constantly encroaching upon [illegible] the rights of honest citizens. We are now witnessing a state of affairs almost similar to that which existed in San Francisco in 1856, when the city had to be rescued from ruffianism by vigilance committee.

The Tribune, referring to the meeting to be held, says if the meeting does nothing more than pass resolutions condemning ballot box stuffing it will not only be a failure but a public calamity [illegible] an acknowledgment of cowardice of the [illegible] and an acknowledgment that Evans, Phillips [illegible] and associates are masters and dictators of Chicago. [illegible] speak gently to the scoundrels. Instead the meeting should make a positive and peremptory demand that these men vacate the offices they have stolen. [illegible] a broad surrender of all forms of government to the [illegible] and usurpers who have controlled the city government. We counsel no violence, but in [illegible] justice, we demand that they surrender the offices deliberately stolen. If they refuse, [illegible] in the name of an outraged people that they be forced to feel there is a physical as well as a public sentiment, and he who defies the one cannot escape the inevitable justice of the other.

CHICAGO, April 11.—In response to a call issued by all Republicans and Democrats of this city, an audience composed largely of business men and numbering from [illegible] the most respectable citizens, met to-night in the Exposition building [illegible] the action of the men who, in the [illegible] own election, counted themselves [illegible] largely defeated by the popular vote. The meeting also had for its object the nomination of an independent candidate to supply the place of Harvey D. Colvin, who claims that under the law he holds over until 1877. Addresses were made by Hon. John Wentworth, Leonard Swett, [illegible] Rev. Arthur Mitchell and a number of other prominent citizens. A preamble and resolutions were adopted which set forth the general and growing corruption which has for many years characterized the city council and which has [illegible] the city credit and produced the necessity for extortionate taxes, and pledge the citizens of Chicago to bury party distinctions and act with unanimity in order to secure honest and efficient government; that by the adoption of the new city charter by fraudulent means one year ago, Harvey D. Colvin is now exercising the office of mayor contrary to the popular will; that its chief officers should be the choice of the people; that an election should be held simultaneously with that for the next city council April 18th, at which an independent candidate for mayor should be presented for the suffrage of the people, and that a committee of three be appointed to visit Mr Colvin and request him, in the name of the citizens here assembled, to resign. The resolutions urge all citizens to unite upon the best men who are candidates for aldermen irrespective of party; that a joint committee of Republicans and Democrats be appointed to protect the purity of the ballot box at the coming aldermanic election; that a committee of 150 be appointed by the chair to demand of the Common Council that the judges and clerks of the election be men of known honesty; that a committee of three be appointed to take steps to have an efficient registry law passed which shall apply to all elections in Cook county; that in view of the recent ballot box stuffing, by means of which men not elected were declared elected, this meeting pledges itself to act unitedly and resist every exercise of [illegible] of these offices by the men declared elected until they are gotten out of offices, and that a committee of twenty five be appointed to go to these men and demand their resignation. The committee is instructed, in case the demand is not complied with, to call a meeting of citizens at this same place, to take what action the exigency of the occasion require; that the citizens of Chicago, irrespective of party, reposing full faith and confidence in the honesty, integrity and ability of Thomas Hoyne, nominate him for the office of Mayor and pledge him as the candidate of the people, our [illegible] and unanimous support. The [illegible] were passed with the greatest unanimity of feeling, and with great applause. The speeches were generally of a calm and conciliatory kind, though the undercurrent was that unless the proper and legal means succeed in securing the [illegible] of the men who have polluted the ballot, that force will be brought to bear which shall compel such resignation.

A C[illegible] against Blaine.

CHICAGO, April 11.—A Times Indianapolis special says the Sentinel this morning contains the following charge against Mr Blaine editorially: J. C. [illegible], a prominent banker of this city, is in possession of a secret, the exposure of which will destroy the prospects of a certain prominent candidate for the Presidency. It is thus: an entry appears in the minutes of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Union Pacific Railroad Co., of Dec. 16, 1871, showing that $64,000 of the company's money found its way into the hands of some person who had no right to it. At a meeting of the board of directors in September 1872, [illegible], who has been a member of that board a number of years, through the influence of Senator [illegible], has offered a resolution calling for a committee to investigate the matter and report who received this large sum of money and all the circumstances attending its disbursement. No sooner had this been done than Mr Rollins, secretary of the board, quietly went to Mr Harrison and said you had better withdraw that resolution; an investigation will involve Mr. Blaine and defeat his re-election. Blaine got the money. The resolution was withdrawn. These facts are known to Mr Wilson of Iowa, who was present at the time the resolution was [illegible] and withdrawn. As a member of the board of directors, it is proper to say that a lot of worthless Arkansas railroad bonds were deposited as collateral security for this money. Mr Harrison's testimony before a committee of Congress, in connection with the fraud, would be both interesting and startling. By all means let him be called. The country is entitled to the disclosure. Let no guilty man escape.

There is a special order for to-morrow and this bill having gone over without getting any time for further consideration, it will require a two thirds vote or unanimous consent, to call it up out of the regular order. Unless some such arrangement be made it can not be reached again for some time.

The Silver Currency Bill.

The Senate finance committee's action in withdrawing most of the amendments to the House silver currency bill was prompted by the necessity of providing promptly for resuming the work of printing legal tender and national bank notes, and the desire to see the redemption of fractional currency by the issue of silver coin without waiting for the end of the threatened long debate on the issues. It is believed the House will acquiesce in the amendments, sticking on the Regan provision for making the trade dollar a legal tender for $50, etc.

The House committee on appropriations this morning agreed to recommend concurrence in all the Senate amendments to the so called silver currency bill.

Goloid Silver Coins.

The bill introduced by Senator Wallace to provide for the coinage of goloid silver coin directs the secretary of the Treasury to have coined one dollar, half dollar and quarter dollar pieces bearing the inscription of goloid silver and consisting of unity per cent. The new coins to be legal tender for all payments except customs duties and the interest on the public debt. It finally provides that Wheeler W. A. The bill asserts that the combination will reduce the size and weight and increase the utility and value of the nation's coins.

Coolie Immigration.

Curiosities of the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill.

CHICAGO, April 11.—The Times' Washington special says: It is interesting to notice from the river and harbor appropriation bill, that in the estimation of the committee of commerce Michigan is the chief maritime state. The navigable waters of the creeks in the mountains in West Virginia are second in importance, then New York, followed by Tennessee, Texas, Arkansas and Iowa. West Virginia is the home of the chairman of the committee. [illegible] dollar is spent on the Ohio river. These seven States have more than half of the entire appropriation. Galveston has a greater appropriation than New York City, including $200,000 for Hell Gate. The truth is no such stupendous job has ever been tested on the House. The Senate is a very unsafe body usually to trust with river and harbor bills. This verifies Randall's prophecy that none of the committees but his own could be trusted to make reductions in appropriation bills.

The English Minister's Labors as Referee.

Mr. Thornton, the English minister, had on the 31st of January [illegible] cases under the Mexican claims commission, and at his request the commission to-day sent a letter to the House committee on appropriations urging extension of the time to January 1877. Bribes Solicited.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The committee on military affairs continued the examination of General Boughton to-day. He testified that he was approached by General Bridgeland, who proposed to drop all the cases against him and the others indicted with him for $10,000, which sum was afterwards reduced to $5,000. Finding that he was illegally indicted and believing that the same influences that got him indicted would continue to persecute him, he did offer to compromise.

Moore, special agent of the treasury, testified that while assessor in Texas Boughton was the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, and heard Bridgeland say he thought he could do the Republicans some good by putting forth these charges against Boughton. The witness afterwards discovered some irregularities on Bridgeland's part and preferred charges against him. News from Iceland.

Late Iceland news has been more satisfactory. The winter has been mild and the stock are in good condition. The devastation caused by volcanic eruptions is less extensive than at first thought. The reported damage in West Manna Islands is untrue. The fisheries having been remarkably good.

European Crops.

The Mark Lane Express says the few weeks of sunshine have had a wonderful improvement on the aspect of the country. An early harvest can scarcely be expected considering the late sowing, but the season will not be greatly retarded. Complaints of the condition of winter grown cereals have ceased. A considerable acreage is now laid in crop. The heavy lands however are reported still sodden and almost unworkable. A full crop of wheat must not be expected. The acreage appears to be about five sevenths of that of 18[illegible]. The quantity of wheat sold for sowing has been considerably less than usual. Trade has been limited during the past week, and the temporary advance in wheat is lost. This return of dullness is not surprising considering the heavy stocks at Liverpool and elsewhere, showing that although the stocks in London have declined almost a third since the end of December, yet elsewhere supplies have equaled consumption and there has been no diminution of stock. Still there appears to be sufficient firmness in wheat to prevent any very marked decline.

VERSAILLES, April 11.—The Senate adjourned until May 10th. The committee considered this letter as an affirmation of dynastic right contrary to the constitution.

London Money Market.

LONDON, April 11.—The Times to-day in a financial article says: Such complete stagnation as now prevails in the money market has not been witnessed for a very long time, bankers being at a loss to know in what direction to seek employment for their surplus balances. There is quite a dearth of mercantile bills, and in open markets rates are [illegible] per cent. The stock exchange is inactive. Pacific Mail Matters.

The Pacific Mail steamer City of Panama sailed to-day for Victoria. Her release from custody of the sheriff was effected by a claim of ownership put forward by Hall & White, whoever they may be, alleging they had a bill of sale from the Pacific Mail Co., which was expected to arrive in a few days from New York. The Granada arrived to-day from Aspinwall, but has not yet been attached. The China is still under attachment, but it is expected she will be released in a few days in the same manner as the City of Panama.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—An order arrived yesterday to dispatch the City of Panama for Victoria to-day. This may probably be accepted as evidence that the troubles of the company in connection with the Panama railroad have been in some way settled.

Investigation of the Chinese Nuisance.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—The Senate committee appointed to investigate the Chinese nuisance began the investigation at 11 o'clock to-day, in the chamber of the board of supervisors. The committee is composed of Senators Haymond, McCoppin, Lewis, Evans, Pierson, Donovan and Rogers.

Gov. Lowe, who in 1870 was appointed Minister to China, and while filling that position had ample opportunity to study the customs of the Chinese, appeared before the committee and gave his views on the question. He stated that in his opinion emigration from China is not enforced in the literal sense of the word. A majority of the Chinamen whom we see every day bear in their faces and dress an appearance of being natives of Hong Kong, from which, being a British colony under the British government, compulsory emigration would not be permitted. The fare from Hong Kong to San Francisco is about $50, a sum which no workingman in China is competent to pay. Chinese immigration, Gov. Lowe thought, was simply the result of the demand for cheap labor, which has existed on the Pacific slope since railroads began to extend through the country. The Chinese capitalists in Hong Kong saw the opportunity to make money out of their less intelligent countrymen and organized bureaus of immigration. They possess almost absolute power over the members of the corporation while in China, and when transferred to California the power is not diminished. In fact it is increased, as it is true, as reported, that the Pacific Mail Co. will not allow a Chinaman to return to China in one of their ships, unless he can produce a certificate from his company stating that he has fulfilled his contract here with the corporation. This Gov. Lowe asserted was the case, and stated that the Chinese trade opened up to the Pacific Mail Co. through channels which the Chinese companies control is so extensive that the steamship authorities dare not oppose the interests of the Mongolian guild. He stated that the condition of the laboring classes in China, judged from an American or European standpoint, is the acme of wretchedness.

A suggestion was adopted to open a correspondence with the American minister in China to obtain information concerning the emigration agencies, etc.

Capt. W. J. Shaw, who had traveled extensively in China, then appeared before the committee and said slavery was approved in China. The condition of the lower classes is as nearly [illegible] as possible, far lower than in this country. He gave the Chinese a rather turbulent and revolutionary character. [illegible] Kelly [illegible] at Albany last Saturday.

[illegible] with lambs [illegible] stock sheep [illegible] to $1.80 [illegible].

The wheat crop in Eastern Oregon is said to promise a much larger yield than ever came from that section before.

A private letter from Douglas county states that the Independents there have nominated Messrs. Singer Hermann and Henry Owens for the legislature and Mr. Eb. Stephens for county clerk.

W. R. Dunbar, G. W. C. T., on the 8th inst. organized a lodge of Good Templars at Carlton with [illegible] charter applicants. J. R. Caldwell is W. C. T.; Lizzie Carr, W. V. T.; J. A. Knotts, W. S.; J. W. Shelton, P. W. C. T., and [illegible] Carr, L. D.

I. J. Hosford, who lives about two miles west from Salem in the Polk county hills, has lost about eighty lambs this spring from the depredations on his flock by the coyotes. The citizens of Old Polk had better organize a wolf club and kill those thieving vermin out.

The Albany Democrat says: "A company is being organized to start from this city about the 1st of June, for the purpose of prospecting Southeastern Oregon in the vicinity of Harney Lake. Twenty five persons have already signed an agreement to go and it is proposed to enlarge the company. To do this a public meeting of all who wish to join in the proposed trip will be held at the Court House on Saturday, the 6th of May next."

The Democratic county convention which assembled at Dallas last Saturday, the 8th instant, made the following nominations for county officers: For State senator, Hon. Ben Hayden; representative, S. S. Staats, L. J. Hayter; G. Hubbard; sheriff, P. M. Collins; clerk, D. J. Holmes; treasurer, W. H. Ray; county commissioners, S. H. Bernard, H. Bayley; school superintendent, J. N. Maxwell; surveyor, S. L. Burch; coroner, Dr. Bates. Delegates to the State convention—Hon. B. L. Burch, L. McDaniels, S. S. Staats, L. M. Hall, D. M. Hayden.

A friend in the Lake country writes under date of the 3d inst. that spring is at last a fixed fact there—grass growing, cattle men rejoicing. Although the loss in stock has been quite heavy, perhaps it was not so great as first supposed. The stock raisers have been depending rather too much on the outside range, but will hereafter put up more hay. This they can easily do, as the lowlands are covered with nutritious grass suited for hay. The sage plains when irrigated also produce good timothy. In truth Southeastern Oregon is a good stock county, and when the railroad is completed through that section, will be one of the most valuable portions of the Pacific Coast.

From the Albany Democrat we learn the following in relation to the wrecking of the Caroline Medeau, on the Yaquina bar, on Wednesday, the 5th inst. The schooner was loaded with cedar lumber and bound for San Francisco. The vessel was lost precisely in the same manner and very near the same place that the schooner Lizzie, Capt. Winant, was lost a few weeks since. The vessel was becalmed on the bar and drifted helplessly among the breakers and was broken to pieces. The captain and crew, after spending the night in an open boat, reached the shore in a chilled condition. Mr. Hendrickson, our informant, who was one of the crew, states that Captain Madison and the balance of the hands are coming over by easy stages on foot.

THE TERRITORIES.

Vessels to the number of 347 passed Dungeness lighthouse during the quarter ending March 31.

An expenditure of $75,000 would make the upper Missouri river navigable as far as El Dorado bar, within 12 miles of Helena, Montana.

The Olympian makes the prediction that the Olympia and Tenino railroad will be constructed before the close of the centennial year.

In addition to four years in the penitentiary the court sentenced Geer, the embezzling revenue collector at Boise City, to pay a fine of $15,092 02.

The Owyhee Avalanche says: "They have struck it rich again near Scotch Bob's. A new claim there has turned out rock which assayed $1,400."

The fellow who broke down the town hall door and stole the brass drum of the Olympia brass band is requested by the local press to return the drum and repair the door.

The latest reliable news from the Black Hills is that nine Montana miners, who have been working steadily in the Hills for the past six months, have averaged just $10 per month to the man, having taken out $540 for their six months' labor.

The Boise Statesman, of April 1st, says: "An Arctic wave came sweeping down upon this city Thursday, which surpassed any 'blow hard' ever known in this country, by the proverbial oldest inhabitant. Yesterday, however, the sun shone brightly and the roaring lion-like March departed in a very lamb-like manner."

The Owyhee Avalanche says: "Captain Bledsoe, superintendent of the Poorman mine, had some rock assayed, which he had taken from the second cross cut of the seventh level north, where the workmen are now operating. He picked up a few chunks indiscriminately without making any special selection. It assayed $2[illegible].75, of which the gold proportion was $200.05."

The Olympian says that the summer resort recently erected at Gravelly Lake on Nisqually plains—nine or ten miles southeast of Steilacoom, on the N. P. railroad—will be visited by many of the wealthy residents of Oregon during the coming summer, and hopes through such visits that the many attractions of the Sound during the hot and sultry days elsewhere will become more widely known than they are now.

An exchange says: "Reports from the Black Hills continue to come in. There is not a particle of gold in the country. The diggings are all panning out finely, and rich finds are being made every day. Anybody who goes there is sure to starve to death unless he returns with all speed. Vast fortunes may be made there in a few weeks, or even days. No living thing grows there. It is a land flowing with milk and honey."

A private letter, says the Vancouver Independent, from D. S. Cameron, from the salmon fishery at Brookfield, [illegible] county, informs us that all is activity in preparing for the fishing season. At that place they will run fifteen boats and employ thirty fishermen, which is considered a large crew for a canning establishment. The business on the lower Columbia has increased largely over what it was last year or at any time heretofore. Salmon has become one of the most important articles of exportation from this country.

The Chinaman in the Silver City jail has not yet succeeded in shuffling off this mortal coil, though he has made another desperate attempt to finish up the business. He has now quite a capacious and unnatural aperture through his windpipe, inflicted by a variety of instruments. This is said to interfere very seriously with the demands of his stomach, which, however, are not very great, as he thinks he will finally succeed in starving himself. When rebuked for his unbecoming conduct, he said it was the "man in the sky" who was doing the business.

EX MINISTER SCHENCK'S DEPARTURE FROM LONDON.

It is believed here [illegible] that when Mr. Schenck quitted London [illegible] had already been accepted by the President [illegible] Mr. Schenck [illegible] the Queen was an [illegible] Mr. Schenck would be guilty of an offense like this. He has not shown himself a stickler for proprieties when anything is to be got by improprieties, but [illegible] there was to gain. It was known all last week in Washington that Schenck's resignation was on the way. In substance it had been [illegible] by cable. Mr. [illegible]'s testimony, Mr. Johnson's testimony, the two new charges against Schenck in connection with the Southern Land Agency and the Colorado Land Company were all known to the President last week; all but one were known at the time when Schenck wrote his letter to the Times [illegible] March, published March 2[illegible], saying he had obtained leave of absence from his government and was going home on his confronting expedition. Between that time and the announcement of the acceptance of Schenck's resignation, no other charge and no other evidence had been heard of on this side the water. Is it conceivable that on Thursday, when Schenck's letter was published, or on Saturday, when he sailed from Liverpool in the Abyssinia, or on Sunday, when the Abyssinia touched at Queenstown for letters and telegrams, the President had not decided to accept his resignation? On Monday—the very day after, according to the cable dispatches, Mr. Dana's name was sent into the Senate. Is it likely that the decision to get rid of Schenck and the decision to nominate Dana were both taken on that Monday morning? It seems a violent improbability, but violent as it is, it is the only theory which will acquit Schenck of a shameful flight out of England and a gross discourtesy to the Queen. The Abyssinia was at Queenstown from two o'clock till four o'clock Sunday afternoon. If the acceptance of Schenck's resignation had been telegraphed to him or to the Legation so late as Saturday night he must have received it before he quitted English shores. If he received it, no matter at what time, it was as a fugitive that he quitted the country to which he came as Minister of the United States. Now, I think we have had disgrace enough without this, and I earnestly hope an official statement may relieve us of it. Any statement that can be made will have its awkward points, but the most awkward of all positions for the government would be to remain silent.

If it should prove that Mr. Schenck knew on Friday—the day of his leaving London—that his ministry was at an end, he is guilty, not only of rudeness to the Queen, but of playing a dishonorable trick on Lord Derby. When the Emma writ was served on him he referred the officer to the foreign secretary, an act from which it may be inferred that Mr. Schenck had previously invoked Lord Derby's protection, and Lord Derby had promised it. Lord Derby accordingly wrote to the solicitors of the Emma company requesting them to withdraw the writ, as against a statute of Queen Anne, which they did. The service is therefore null. But if Mr. Schenck was no longer minister at the time of the service, yet allowed Lord Derby to believe that he was and to intervene in his behalf, what can be said of such a performance? The only thing I will say is that it would be a fitting conclusion to Mr. Schenck's career in England. The career has been disgraceful; why should we expect it to end in an honorable way? If, on the other hand, Mr. Schenck is innocent, it is only one more instance of the fatality which, throughout his ministry, has made alleged innocence wear the look of real guilt.

WEST INDIES.

Jacmel Still Blockaded.

HAVANA, April 10.—Advices from Jacmel to the 30th report the town still blockaded. President Dominique had given the insurgents notice that in 96 hours the place would be bombarded. The time had expired and the threat remained unfulfilled. Dominique is very unpopular, but the movements against him this time will probably fail. It is reported that several passengers on the steamer Thyria from St. Thomas were shot on landing at Jacmel. Two U. S. men of war at Port au Prince threaten to use force if the decrees taxing foreigners are carried out against the Americans, or if the moneys already collected are not returned to them. The French consul insists on the same treatment for French citizens.

The Octavio Captives Surrendered.

HAVANA, April 10.—St. Thomas dates to March 28th have reached here. Sixteen men who were captured on board the Octavio were delivered at Porto Rico on the 27th to the commander of the British gunboat Eclipse, which sailed immediately afterwards. Her destination is unknown.

Mexican Revolution.

GALVESTON, April 11.—A special to the News from Loredo says New Loredo has just been captured by the revolutionists and the fighting is all over. The United States forces have fourteen Mexican Federal prisoners with a portion of their arms. Quinturo Federal escaped down the river with a part of his force.

HOW INGALLS BECAME Q. M. G.—The Sun has been furnished with a copy of a memorandum printed on white satin, accompanied with which the present Acting Quartermaster General Ingalls made Mrs Grant a present of a watch and chain, costing the sum of $4,800. Ingalls was then an assistant quartermaster general, and his pecuniary means were not in the most remote degree such that he could make so costly a present unless it was allied with some speculation. Nor was the speculation wanting. Quartermaster General Meigs was sent abroad—ostensibly to inspect the European armies—and Ingalls was placed in his position. The Sun cannot find any difference between this sort of corruption and the corruption of Belknap through Marsh, and suggests that Grant, too, should be impeached.—Staats Zeitung.

CALIFORNIA AND OREGON RAILROAD.—It was rumored yesterday that the Central Pacific Railroad had purchased the California and Oregon road. To ascertain the truth of the matter a Chronicle reporter called on Mr. Villard, the agent of the latter road, last evening. Mr. Villard said that the statement was entirely without foundation, no such sale having been made or even as yet negotiated. Mr. Villard stated also that the steamship line had been turned over to him as the agent of the German bondholders, and that it was now in his charge. Also that in seventy days a new steamer would arrive here from New York which will be immediately placed on the line. It is named the Geo. W. Elder, of 1,5[illegible] tons burden, 260 feet in length by 38 beam.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL [illegible], 1876.

[illegible] IMPEACHMENT.

[illegible] the following [illegible] which [illegible] that [illegible] is impeachable [illegible] that [illegible]

The [illegible] that the Senate shall have the sole power to try [illegible] impeachments, that when the [illegible] the Chief Justice shall preside, and that no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the [illegible] present [illegible] judgment in cases of [illegible] further than [illegible] disqualification [illegible] trust [illegible] the United States [illegible] judgment [illegible] according to law for the [illegible]

The [illegible] that by the framers of the [illegible] was twofold: first, to get rid of corrupt [illegible], secondly, to [illegible] from holding office in the future. If that was the only object to be secured, [illegible] would answer as well as removal from office, and an impeachment would be unnecessary. But while that is one, it is not the only or most important thing. It is to prevent a person guilty of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors from ever again having an opportunity to defraud and disgrace the government. A simple resignation would not accomplish this. It would be no bar to his re-election or re-appointment, while a conviction, sentence and imprisonment according to law precludes the possibility of his again holding office. He might be pardoned and restored to the rights and privileges he had [illegible]. But after an impeachment by the Senate the guilty officer could never again hold office, for while the President has power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States, that power is expressly withheld in cases of impeachment.

Hence it would seem that the framers of the constitution must have intended this provision to apply in cases where the accused had ceased to hold office, or else they must have intended to furnish persons liable to impeachment a loophole for escape from the punishment of their misdeeds—an idea too preposterous to be considered for a moment.

Besides, impeachment was at the time of the making of the constitution no unknown remedy. Warren Hastings was being tried upon articles of impeachment exhibited against him more than a year after he had resigned. That case was progressing while the convention which framed the constitution was in session, and must have been known to the members of it. If they had designed to change the rule with regard to the time within which the articles of impeachment should be exhibited and acted upon in that case, they would have done so by the use of some words of limitation. But none were used, and it is unreasonable to insist that they should be supplied now. From these considerations it seems clear that the resignation of Secretary Belknap does not bar his impeachment, and that if he should rely upon such a defense he will fail.

MEXICO.

This unhappy country is again on the rampage. Under the administration of President Lerdo De Tejada her affairs were for a short time in an apparent state of tranquility, and hopes began to be entertained that the days of pronunciamentos and revolutions was over, but these hopes were vain and the country is again in disorder. Porfirio Diaz, the rival of Tejada, is now the leader of the insurrection against the government. He has issued a pronunciamento which is a model of thoroughgoing revolutionary declaration. The Express says of it: "The principles on which he proposes to administer the government of the Republic when he [illegible] are few and simple. They make short work with the present order of things. In the first place he declares against a second term in the Presidential office. This of course is leveled at Lerdo, who is a candidate for re-election. Next all governors of States and their subordinates who oppose the present attempt to reorganize the Republic shall be deposed and their places filled by the commander in chief, Diaz. Another provision is that Lerdo De Tejada and his supporters shall be held personally and pecuniarily responsible [illegible] that Diaz [illegible] for the Mexican [illegible] we will [illegible] Wa [illegible]

LETTER FROM ALBANY.

ALBANY, April 10, 1876.

[illegible] ONE [illegible]

[illegible] which has for some time past been gathering in and about our usually [illegible] county has at last in a small degree ripened [illegible] into a spirited contest.

Last Saturday, being the day set for the Democratic primaries, brought upon our streets a large gathering of the unterrified, and during the day [illegible] there was to be seen many of the old Democratic war horses anxiously engaged buzzing and [illegible] their neighbors regarding the various aspirants for position. At 1 o'clock the tocsin was sounded, the signal given, and the war began, each worker faithfully representing the good qualities of his friend.

The main contestants who were known in the fight and presented themselves by open ticket for delegates for themselves were W. R. P[illegible] and J. R. Herren for sheriff and [illegible] and J. [illegible] Hill for county clerk. The contest finally simmered down to clerk, and after a few hours spent, halt to halt, resulted in a victory for Hill by a heavy majority. The sheriffs could not direct votes for themselves so as to meet in open battle, in consequence of a stronger feeling for clerk. Mr. Herren and Mr. Price claim each one half of the delegation. More anon. ROMEO.

NESDAY MORNING APRIL [illegible] 187[illegible]

CITY.

FAREWELL RECEPTION —The [illegible] last evening the Rev T L Eliot [illegible] the past eight years has so acceptably filled the pastorate of the First Unitarian church of Portland and his very estimable wife by their friends, proved a most interesting affair and one which will long be held in remembrance by all concerned. The reception was held in the chapel, which was well filled Abundant refreshments were provided of which all present partook heartily During the entire evening the auditorium was crowded with the members and friends of the church of which Mr Eliot has so long been pastor and also many representatives from all the various denominations and societies There seemed to be but one prevailing sentiment—that of regret in view of Mr Eliot's departure and probable absence from the city for one year Many an eye was filled with tears as members and friends warmly pressed the hands of Mr and Mrs Eliot, and the farewell words were spoken. Many a fervent petition will go up to the throne of all good that Mr Eliot's declining health may be speedily restored and that he may be permitted to return to this city and carry forward the good work in aid of Christianity and humanity in which he has so long and assiduously labored The [illegible] Club was present, and during the evening rendered some very excellent and appropriate music. Mr Eliot and family will depart for the East on the Stephens

EASTER.—Easter will fall this year on the 16th rather than on the 9th of April because Easter day is regulated not by a solar but by a lunar cycle—the cycle that regulates the golden number. Now, by a solar calculation a day always begins at midnight but by lunar calculation it begins at noon. If therefore the paschal moon falls on a Saturday after 12 M it is calculated as falling on Sunday and the Easter day is, under the rule in the prayer book, the Sunday following This is what happens in the present year The paschal full moon falls on Saturday April 8th at 12:07 P M. It is, therefore, counted as falling on Sunday, April 9th, and Easter day is the Sunday following, that is, April 16th

THE LECTURE.—The lecture delivered last Sunday evening at Turn Halle by Mrs Brolinsky was well attended and highly appreciated by those present The lecturess is a pleasant, fluent speaker, and seems to thoroughly understand her subject. Those failing to attend have been deprived of a rare treat Mrs Brolinsky will deliver a lecture at the same hall, to married ladies only Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, at 2 o'clock and on the evenings of those days to all

OREGON BIBLE SOCIETY.

The following is an extract of the proceedings of the executive committee of the Oregon Bible Society at their meeting in the city of Portland April 5 1876

WHEREAS A perfect organization a uniform plan and a harmony of action are deemed essential to the success of our work and whereas we believe the best way to secure this end is to appoint a general agent who shall be authorized by this committee to visit all the branch Bible societies under our care to assist them in their work to organize new ones when and where needed, to commission voluntary Bible agents wherever desirable to receive moneys from branch treasurers, congregations and individuals for our treasury and in a word, to use such means as shall best conduce to the success of the Bible cause always acting under such instructions as he may receive from time to time from the executive committee

Resolved That the Rev P C Hetzler be and is hereby appointed said agent for the purposes stated in the preamble to this resolution so far as may be compatible with his duties to the parent society as its assistant district superintendent

In connection with this service the committee would respectfully ask that the officers and executive committees of the branch societies, and other friends of the Bible cause extend to our agent a cordial welcome and a hearty co operation in the work committed to his care

Many families and individuals in our State are destitute of the Bible and should be supplied

Liberal contributions of money are needed and solicited The Lord loveth a cheerful giver

The present is vacation week in our public school and a number of the teachers will avail themselves of it and attend the convention at Albany, leaving here to-morrow

Sylvester C Simpson of your city has been granted a life diploma by the State Board of Education entitling him to teach in any public school in this State during his life

Mrs Wm Steel of this city was badly burned yesterday morning while taking some clothes out of the boiler which was on the stove Having made several fruitless efforts to raise them with a stick she gave them a final pull which brought them out with such force as to throw them scalding hot around her neck Her screams soon brought the neighbors but before they could be removed she was badly scalded and medical assistance was immediately called in

The base ball club held a special meeting Saturday evening last and adopted the name of College. The feasibility of giving a musical and literary entertainment for the benefit of the club to purchase uniforms etc was discussed at some length and finally agreed on and Messrs Holt Crossman and Peebles appointed as committee of arrangements A B Crossman was elected treasurer in the place of J M McCully resigned The boys are waking up to the interest of the game and intend making it tropical for any and all competitors

The annual school meeting of this district took place last evening The attendance was very good and considerable interest manifested Among other business brought up was the erection of a new school house commodious enough to meet the growing demands of the district The directors were authorized to examine various localities places etc, and report at a special meeting one month from date There is some talk of selling the East Salem school property and using the proceeds in erecting new buildings in a more central portion of the district A three mill tax was also levied for school purposes

A MODERN FIRST-CLASS LOBBYIST

An admirable example of the high priced lobbyist fell into the hands of the House committee on postoffices in the person of Col J McKibben late of California This gentleman, who is described as a suave well dressed well educated and fine looking man nonchalantly explains that his business in Washington is to influence legislative and executive action When the Democratic minority of the postoffice committee made a report on the investigation of mail contract frauds in 1872, he wrote their report for them When he had stirred up an investigation he was attorney for the persons investigated and he threw the weight of his influence which seems to be considerable on either side of any case, without partiality or conscience Brains he thinks, are more than money and when one firm of contractors paid him $5 000 a year for looking after their interests in Washington, he considered he was only earning fair wages McKibben's testimony is voluminous but it is worth a close study It not only shows the power and intricacy of that mysterious machinery which for want of a better term is called the lobby but it throws some light on the manner in which crude legislation is sometimes made to defeat the very purpose which it is designed to subserve

Col McKibben was on the stand all day but his evidence seemed to amount to nothing more than is before stated except to show how a man with capacity but lack of morals may turn his services to great account and influence legislative action as well as executive. He seemed to see no harm in furnishing brains to defraud the government upon any side of the question when it paid In short he was the highest priced man of the kind discovered since Bill King and John Schumaker —N Y Times

A GREENBACK MAN DEMANDS GOLD —The Indianapolis Journal says "In February last the firm of Landers Given & Co of which Franklin Landers is the head, took two promissory notes to Fred C Ballman the same being made payable in gold Not being paid at maturity suit was brought and judgment recovered on both notes payable in gold It looks as if Landers were getting slightly mixed up In Congress he howls against national banks, while he owns stock in one and draws dividends here There he denounces gold and howls for greenbacks, while here he repudiates the latter and makes his notes payable in gold Such things are calculated to strengthen the growing belief that Landers is a fraud

Mr Shillaber the "Mrs Partington" of [illegible] fame has been visited by a San Francisco reporter who found in him an old gentleman with white hair 77 years of age In the interview he stated that he began writing Mrs Partington's sayings by accident Being engaged on a newspaper in 1847 he happened to insert a quizzical remark attributing it to Mrs Partington the title being borrowed from Sydney Smith's character of that name He said that when his sayings were collected and published he had no idea of the great success that the book would meet with and was surprised at the avidity with which it was taken The boy Ike he stated to be a veritable character—in fact his own son"

ABOUT WOMEN

A colored girl baby took the first premium at a recent show at Atchison Kan

When an Albany girl threw snuff into her lover's face because he was cool in wooing the indignant youth remarked "Miss Julia, I've had snuff of this and you will never see me again"

A Washington woman, wife of a barber says her husband is in possession of more state secrets than any other man at the capital and she is in constant fear that he will be investigated tell what he knows and get his brains knocked out

The [illegible] two ladies to travel and solicit subscriptions The ladies collected [illegible] withdrew $200 for salaries and expended in other ways other $128 06 leaving a balance of $[illegible] to help on the Centennial preparation

Schopenhauer says that "women are naturally fitted for being children they have an eye to the thing which is nearest to them they watch themselves to the present they mistake the appearance for the reality and they set aside the most momentous question for the veriest trifle"

He was taken sick in the night and in her confiding ignorance she made two mustard plasters and put one in front and one behind and then with horrid sarcasm she asked him how he felt But he was a well bred man and merely said that he realized with a tenderness he had never known before the true position of a sandwich in the community

Messrs Cockerell & Co the great London coal merchants have set apart one of the offices at their wharf where lady clerks only are employed to manage the accounts The hours are from 9 to 6 o'clock and the salary a pound a week This is done as an experiment simply but is likely to result in throwing all the clerkships into the hands of women

A shoe dealer in Washington says it is not true that Mrs Belknap has the smallest feet of any lady in the city He adds "Within the past three weeks I have sold two pairs of shoes much smaller to a young lady at Washington The lady mentioned is five feet five inches high weighs about [illegible] pounds and is a pure blonde of the finest type She wears slippers No 1½ misses size and No 1 gaiters though the latter are too large except in the height of the instep

Emily Faithfull in an article on English servants says "Few are aware of the temptations to which young maid servants are exposed especially the multitudes who go into small places in large towns Their mistresses probably do not even pretend to regard them otherwise than as working machines and a young girl's nature does not permit of her being a mere drudge and nothing else The companions she meets the acquaintances she picks up are often very undesirable Her Sundays out are so many opportunities for evil and the frequent results are but too well known Then perhaps a sudden dismissal She has not money enough to return to her home in the country and she is probably afraid to face her relations She therefore waits in hopes of getting another place She goes to a low lodging spends all her money and comes to utter ruin

A Montreal druggist got out an advertising pamphlet entitled "History of Cinchona," which was embellished with the portrait of Cardinal de Lugo but the simple minded Catholics took it as a history of Father Chiniquy and mobbed the distributors with pious zeal

At Memphis last Thursday while a negro bootblack of thirteen, named Bob Wheeler was blacking the boots of a peddler named Blumenstein, he was made to believe by a bystander that his customer would not pay him and, drawing a penknife stabbed Blumenstein in the jugular vein, killing him

An ice factory has been established on the edge of Dartmouth Moor England, which is conducted on a novel and a simple principle A series of shallow tanks are charged with water from the granite in that elevation a slight frost produces a good layer of ice which is collected and stored for commercial purposes

There was a most exciting scene in the Dominion Parliament this week, when Mr Frechette a Liberal member well known in the United States as a poet and orator made a furious personal attack on Mr Langevin whom he accused of corrupt and violent practices employing corruptionists rioters and murderers to secure his election while the object of his attack sat voiceless and motionless

A LEGAL JOKE

[illegible] Tribune [illegible] says [illegible] what prior to the [illegible] laws [illegible] mountain county of East Tennessee. The court was drawing to a close and there was a quart at least of native [illegible] in the jail, when he directed the clerk to call the case of Simmons vs. Brownrigg—replevin—appeal from a magistrate's court. Brownrigg was working for Simmons, with several others, and each of the workmen had claim to [illegible] of a remarkably fine litter of pups. When Brownrigg left he carried off a piece of rope with his pup firmly attached to the end of it. Hence replevin by Simmons and, contrary to all right, judgment for defendant, and appeal by plaintiff.

The judge finding the defendant not represented by counsel appointed Colonel H[illegible], C. S. A., one of the leading lawyers [illegible] the leading young men in Tennessee, to defend. Of course it was plain to him where the right of property, or to be plain, the jus proprietatis lay, and equally clear that the bar, court and crowd were in for fun. A jury was impaneled, and every staid citizen, granger, clergyman, doctor, or what not, was called in and asked all sorts of impossible questions concerning dogs, and much valuable information was elicited about curs, spaniels, setters, pointers, yaller dogs, old brindles, coon and possum dogs.

The opposing counsel belabored the witnesses and appealed to the court and befuddled the jury as they drew from each witness one statement after another concerning the points of a good dog, and then discussed it pro and con, and then, on one side or the other, got the court to exclude all the evidence in, and began with the witness de novo. The medical profession had presented the anatomy of the dog, the clergy had given its theological aspects, the judge had given several learned opinions and the counsel had soundly belabored each other and reminded the court of magna charta and the writ of habeas corpus, the palladium of Anglo-Saxon [illegible].

The court was in tip-top good humor, the crowd [illegible] and the case drawing to a close, when Major G[illegible] a gallant [illegible] the [illegible] unpleasantness, on the part of the plaintiff, entered the court house. H[illegible] him in a moment. It was not his custom to [illegible] as possessed of [illegible] unless he was [illegible]. He [illegible] knew it was sure to be a failure [illegible] him and [illegible] "Come in and help me."

"Oh no," he replied, "I don't know the facts, have just come in."

"No difference, I'll give you all the facts in a minute," said Col. H., and proceeded to relate a moving tale of a first rate spotted hound pup swapped by the defendant for a jackass warranted [illegible] jackass for all the purposes implied in the name, and boot paid. The jackass, after having been used up and down the mountains for every purpose to which a jackass could be applied, proved a total and ignominious failure, a bankrupt and utterly insolvent jackass, all liabilities and no assets. Colonel G. at once went into the case, and after a learned and humorous disquisition on dogs and an able presentation of the dog side of the case, with an eulogy pronounced on the dog in point, he said:

"And now, gentlemen, I come to the jackass."

There was a glance of astonishment, and an outburst as he pictured the defendant with a wife and children dependent upon the energy with which he exercised the industry of standing that jackass in the community, and the enterprise with which he had displayed that jackass in every [illegible] vale, on every [illegible] mountain peak, or bleak hillside, or fertile plain or valley, how he had with persistent energy introduced that jackass to the [illegible] community at $10 [illegible] insure and [illegible] to expend his small patrimony [illegible] from [illegible] ownership [illegible] a wife, another to law, and [illegible] small children to poverty and [illegible] writ of replevin to recover [illegible].

[illegible] jackass the court [illegible] the jury smiled audibly [illegible] knew he was getting off a good thing [illegible] the [illegible] He was [illegible]

New Industries Wanted

That the [illegible] building [illegible] is often heard in [illegible] the general condition of the country with respect to its trade and [illegible] There are many who believe that [illegible] the connection of Oregon with the outside [illegible] the State a new [illegible] strictly [illegible] We want

[illegible] manufacturing [illegible] to stimulate the [illegible]

[illegible] of sugar beets and [illegible] complement to the people and [illegible] the half million of dollars paid to [illegible]

[illegible]

Leather manufactories of all kinds, to save the very large sums sent [illegible] the State every year for these fabrics.

We want an increase in the manufacture of woolen goods, to give employment to the people and stop an enormous sum from going out of the State for these necessaries.

We want the inauguration of ship yards here on a large scale, which can turn out ships of any size to supply the tonnage demands of our own or the commerce of other lands.

We want an increase in smaller manufactures of all kinds, to keep the people who are already here employed and to offer inducements to all the skilled labor that may hereafter come to our shores.

We want one hundred persons where there is now but one all over this fertile State, to develop its resources in an agricultural and mineral respect and save the money to the country that is made within its borders.

Wheat and Tonnage.

In this department of business it would seem that but little more will be done in local circles before the harvest. There are now only two vessels loading, neither of which is of large tonnage, and both have their cargoes at hand and will get off the latter part of this week. The Caller Ou, another grain vessel, is reported in the river. She was chartered to arrive at a round figure, but failed to put in an appearance on time and her cargo has gone into another vessel, and she will be on the market for re-engagement. Whether she will be taken up very quickly, even at the low freight rates now prevailing, remains to be seen, but exporters speak rather discouragingly of the chances of chartering a ship under the present circumstances and especially in view of the fact that she must arrive in England after harvest. Few are willing to take much risk for the sake of all the probability of profit which there would be in such a speculation. In the meantime [illegible] the heretofore [illegible] buyers have [illegible] the market and [illegible] instructed to let up at least for the present, and probably permanently for the season. There are no transactions [illegible] this week to establish prices for wheat [illegible] per cental.

Domestic Produce

[illegible] from wheat to flour is in moderate supply and prices generally are firmly maintained. The [illegible] demand for choice oats for seed has been brisk for a few days past and such command [illegible] cents per [illegible] while extra qualities are worth [illegible] cents more. There is also ready sale for the best varieties of potatoes, onions and apples. Though the season for the latter is about closed, California's requirements in the fruit line being soon to be filled by her own products for a while. Provisions of all kinds firm at our quotations and the trade is quite brisk. Dairy produce is rather weaker and after Easter eggs will probably decline to 16@18 cents, though now selling at 20c. Those shipped by the next steamer at the latter figure will probably net a loss to the shipper. There is no change in the price of hides or peltry. Wool as yet is attracting comparatively but little attention. The spring clip will be average as to quantity and it is claimed will exceed in quality that of former years.
